BY MASTER CARVER PETER CALVESBERT
FIXED EDITION OF 200

Because hamsters are known for cramming their spacious cheeks full of food, Master Carver Peter Calvesbert wondered if they ever choked on their lunch. One thing led to another, and soon a sculpture of hamsters performing the Heimlich Maneuver was born. Inscribed on the lid are the five most popular breeds of hamster: Syrian, Campbell, Chinese dwarf, Roborovski and Russian. Peter's mouse, who wants to steer clear of the action, does not make an appearance on this fixed edition of 200.
